Are you ready for Qtask?

Most of our clients didn't know they needed Qtask. The nature of their business and specific needs varied, but they all were struggling to deliver results on time and efficiently. And they were all ready to do things differently; to change their habits in order to improve their game. From software companies to law practices, PR and marketing firms, real estate and doctors offices – we now hear the exact same thing: "We've improved our communication and collaboration, thanks to Qtask." And that's what counts; business doesn't get done unless you are working together and on the same page. Qtask doesn't get in the way; Qtask paves the way.

Qtask works across multiple locations and departments within a company. Whether you are the CEO, team or project manager or an individual contributor, you experience numerous benefits using Qtask

"Qtask has allowed us to accomplish in 90 days what would otherwise have taken 6 months - this is the most valuable thing that Qtask has done for kidthing"

– Larry Hitchcock - CEO, kidthing, inc.

One Killer integrated SaaS

Thanks to Qtask's highly integrated, secure environment, all information and communication resides online, in the same place. Calendars, discussions, tasks, files, wikis, and more all live safely within Qtask. No more endless searching through folders for a document; no more hang time due to opening up additional applications; no more sifting through a full inbox to get to critical issues.

And Qtask is flexible. Share information with someone outside your project sending them a Syndicated link the old-fashioned way: email. You don't even have to leave Qtask to do it! Encryption, version control and file locks keep your documents secure.

Best of all, Qtask works from most popular browsers or smart phones, enabling work anytime, from anywhere. Qtask helps you work the way you want.

The transparency you seek. The accountability you need.
The results you demand.
